HOW A KNIGHT CAME TO A FISHERMANS COTTAGE. Once on a beautiful evening, it may now be manyhundred years ago, there was a worthy old fisherman who sat before his door mending his nets. Now the corner of the world where he dwelt, was exceedingly picturesque. The green turf on which he had built his cottage, ran far out into a great lake; and this slip of verdure appeared to stretch into it as much through love of its clear waters, blue and bright, as the lake, moved by a like impulse, strove to fold the meadow, with its waving grass and flowers, and the cooling shade of the trees, in its fond embrace. Such were the freshness and beauty of both, that they seemed to be drawn toward each other, and the one to be visiting the other as a...
